

December 2012

Season's Greetings!

It has been another eventful and productive year here at Bloomfield Community Television. Once again we are on track to produce more than 600 shows this year, in addition to the municipal meetings of five area communities that we cover on a regular basis. Our success would not be possible without the efforts of our producers, volunteers and friends.

This year we have added three new ongoing series to our lineup: Judge Michael Warren's Patriot Lessons; Scott Weinberg's The Lawyer's View; and Shereena Osa's Michigan Style Channel. Our community producers, both new and long-standing, produce shows of exceptional quality and variety. Volunteers and production staff work hard to make these shows possible. In addition, we tape and air the productions of over 30 nonprofit groups, including The Community House, Bloomfield Historical Society, Bloomfield Township Public Library and Baldwin Public Library.

We have recently installed brand new sets in our studio, including hardwood floors and new furniture, to give our studio shows a fresh, updated look. Producers now have the option of choosing one of two distinctly different sets and further customizing the look of their shows.

BCTV continues to work closely with the Birmingham Area Cable Board to tape and air programs originating in Birmingham, Beverly Hills, Franklin and Bingham Farms. These programs include some Birmingham Schools sporting events and the municipal meetings in these communities. We value this productive and on-going relationship with our neighboring communities.

Thank you for your involvement and support of the work we do here at BCTV. We value your contribution. We wish you the very best during the holiday season and in the New Year!
